

Scent of Samadhi

An ancient herbal perfume/deodorant of the Yogis of South India

Samadhi means, "Supreme inexpressible bliss". Scent of Samadhi is an all natural and herbal perfume from ancient India. The experience of the fragrance of Scent of Samadhi is wellbeing, optimism, calm, nurturing and inspiring. It is for the first time ever that such a product meant to enhance yoga and meditation through fragrance is being introduced into the United States.

About Scent of Samadhi: Sages and yogis meditating in caves use this all-natural, herbal blend to enhance their meditations. Scent of Samadhi is mood lifting, tranquil and awakening. With perspiration the aroma gets richer as our natural essence is transformed!

We think it is important to offer this amazing product to all those who practice yoga and meditation. We took the step of contacting you because we are confident that you and your students will love this enlightening and exotic fragrance!

Ingredients: red sandalwood, clove oil, tulsi, cardamom oil extract, rose oil, and barks from the local foliage where Scent of Samadhi is made.

Ideal for:

- Yoga & meditation, bodywork/massage, deep relaxation and inspiration.
- Mood uplifting, inspiring and calming to the mind. Fragrance creates a sense of well-being.
- Yogis believe Scent of Samadhi to be healing to the mind and body.-As deodorant: works along with the body perspiration to create a wonderful divine aroma.
- Awakens all the chakras in an inhale starting with the base chakra (due to the sandalwood component) while bringing out the angelic nature in us, hence it is referred to as 'tantric'.
- Can be mixed with any massage oils to enhance the experience of healing & rejuvenation.

About the product:

5 grams each jar- will last for minimum 3 months with daily use.

Glass jar ensures that Scent of Samadhi has a long shelf life.
